What is a freehold property?

Freehold property ownership in Dubai allows the owner to have complete ownership over the asset in addition to the property that stands on it. Dubai Land Department (DLD) registers the buyer's name as 'landowner' in the registry as well as grants a title deed for the property. The unit can be freely leased, sold, or occupied on the will of the owner unless they decide to resell it to anyone.

Investment Model

Investo provides multiple land options for investors. Once the investment is done, the investor receives the title deed. Investo then provides a 10% return to the Investor by leasing the land from them and utilizing it for commercial purposes.
